Probation Violation Results in Prison

Modesto, California – Stanislaus County District Attorney Birgit Fladager announced today that Theresa Ostrander, age 37, formerly of Los Banos, was sentenced to prison after admitting to being in violation of probation in two separate theft cases. She had violated probation on five prior occasions. The Probation Department and District Attorney's Office concluded that she was not amenable to probation due to her inability to comply with even the simplest terms of probation, including report to the probation department when requested. She was also on probation for drug offenses in Merced County and is facing a prison term there as well. Deputy District Attorney Doug Maner prosecuted the case for the People.
